The MBA experience starts
01 in Vance Hall, home of MBA Admissions, Wharton Innovation Group, Entrepreneurship, and Baker Retail Center. MBA entrepreneurs congregate here day and night, sharing resources in the Venture Initiation Program office.

WHARTON QUAD

Between 37th & 38th Streets, Spruce Street and Locust Walk

- 02 Lauder-Fischer Hall is home to the Wharton/Lauder joint MBA/MA program for international business.
- 03 The Career Management Office in the McNeil Building is equipped with a vast interview suite for on-campus recruiting.
- 04 The Steinberg Conference Center, home of Wharton Executive Education Program, also houses Executive MBA students.

COLLEGE GREEN
FEATURES SEVERAL ICONIC WORKS OF ART:

Robert Indiana's

LOVE STATUE

Claes Oldenburg and Coosje van Bruggen's

SPLIT BUTTON

Inspired by the straining buttons on Benjamin Franklin's vest in the sculpture in the center of the green

LOCUST WALK

Wharton straddles Locust Walk, the lively pedestrian thoroughfare through the heart of Penn.

- 07 The Colonial Penn Center, located near the corner of 38th and Locust Walk, contains the Wharton Health Care Management Office. In the green square of Blanche Levy Park (also known as College Green), you'll see the entrance 08 to the Van Pelt and Lippincott Libraries (by the statue of a broken button!).

Van Pelt, the 2nd largest open-stack library in the U.S., also contains Lippincott, the high-tech main library for Wharton. To enjoy an old-school experience, 09 visit the ornate Fisher Fine Arts Library. Designed by Frank Furness, it is considered one of the world's most beautiful libraries.

THE NEW TOWER WAS DESIGNED TOWARD ECO-FRIENDLY LEED CERTIFICATION, INCLUDING TWO NEW GREEN ROOFS.

STEINBERG - DIETRICH HALL

3620 Locust Walk (pedestrians only)

- 06 SHDH, opened in 1952, was Wharton's first building. It also contains Wharton's most recent addition—a glass tower opened in 2013, adding 32 faculty offices and new advanced classrooms. Use the new West tower entrance to grab a bite at Joe's Café or to pick up Wharton gear at the Wharton Store.

WALNUT STREET

- Just across Walnut Street from Huntsman is the Pottruck Fitness
- 10 Center, where MBAs work off steam in the 17,000 square feet of fitness space with a climbing wall, golf center with simulator, pool, basketball courts, spinning room, and more.

- Walk east on Walnut Street to visit Penn and University City favorites
- 11 including the University of Pennsylvania Bookstore, where you can purchase Penn and Wharton specific gear, the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts, where Wharton Follies is performed every
- 12 year, and the Inn at Penn, site of the Faculty Club, where many professors host student lunches throughout the year.

MBA STUDENT LIFE CENTER

2401 Walnut Street

- Accessible to both campus and Center City, the new MBA
- 13 Student Life Center (known as 2401) provides a convenient venue for Wharton team study, community interaction, and vibrant extracurricular culture. Inside are MBA-only conference rooms and study spaces, plus amazing views of Philadelphia, a kitchen, and massive flat-screen televisions.

* Due to building security at 2401, prospective students must be accompanied by a current Wharton student or staff member to visit these facilities.

MBA PUB AT 23RD STREET ARMORY

22 S. 23rd Street

- The great Wharton Thursday night
- 14 tradition, MBA Pub, has moved to a new location in Center City. Located on 23rd Street between Market and Chestnut at the Armory, it is in close proximity to the new MBA Student Life Center, 2401 Walnut.

HUNTSMAN HALL

3730 Walnut Street

05 The center of Wharton life is Jon M. Huntsman Hall, the main academic building for the School. Opened in 2004, Huntsman facilitates collaboration amongst staff, students and faculty. The 48 classrooms are equipped with video recording technology, award-winning podiums, and custom profiles allowing instructors to personalize any classroom in Wharton. Huntsman's 57 group study rooms are in use 24 hours a day, promoting Wharton team learning. Students can reserve them online for study and collaboration using wireless keyboards, video-conferencing technology, and electronic whiteboards.

The Baker Forum on the lower level is the largest common space in Wharton, used for casual studying and meetings, as well as student receptions. The 8th Floor Conference Center hosts meetings and conferences and offers sweeping 360-degree views of Philadelphia.

Take a quick bite or long lunch at the Bridge Cafe on Locust Walk or the MBA Café and lounge on the second floor overlooking Koo Plaza.
